Fantastic opportunities, but don't just take our word for it...

"At Atos we continue to be fully committed to developing our people, providing them with interesting and rewarding careers. The recruitment of further numbers of apprentices into the business, demonstrates the investment for the future that the company is making"

Kevin Wilkinson

Senior Vice President Human Resources, Atos

"I have settled down into the job quicker than expected and learnt more in three months than I thought was possible. The initial boot camp training academy was a bit daunting but we used a lot of what we learnt in the initial training in the following months in work with Atos"

James Raine

Software Development Apprentice, Atos
